THE CULTURAL AWARD GRADE 12: Nicole Bayes

For representing Oakhill in an excellent manner for a length of time in the cultural field.

PAUL BARNARD AWARD: Josh McCaw

For showing courage and determination to achieve success in spite of difficulties.

DINA MURPHY TROPHY: Kristin Groenewald

To the learner who rigorously motivated and organised community outreach at Oakhill.

PAM MUIR AWARD: Matthew Young

For excellence, in honour of one of our founders, to a young man not considering himself great, but is great. To a young man who did not plan to be great, but is great.

JAMIESON TROPHY: Cara Eyre

For the learner who has shown determination and perseverance above and far beyond the ordinary throughout his/her school career and to such an extent that his/her work has shown steady and marked improvement.

CLAUDIA COLLAROSSA AWARD: Samantha de Kock

For commitment and support of Oakhill endeavour – to the learner who has been prepared to support the school in spirit and personal effort.

THE GREG MOGG MEMORIAL TROPHY: Fern Wolf

For the Matric learner who, over a number of years, has proven a true friend and confidant to the majority of the members of the class. The recipient has helped to foster and nurture class spirit, helping individuals in times of need as well as the greater group on an ongoing basis. The learners vote for this by secret ballot.

JOY OF LEARNING AWARD: Fern Wolf

Awarded to a matric learner who, in the course of his/her school career at Oakhill, has in the opinion of the teachers and across a wide range of subjects, most meaningfully validated the school's motto: 'The Joy of Learning' with curiosity, tenacity, pleasure and enthusiasm. This learner has both given and taken joy in the process of academic achievement.

DUX SCHOLAR FOR 2014: Olivia Gardy

HEADMASTER'S AWARD: Rhys van den Handel, Cara Eyre

To a boy and a girl who embodies the principles of good citizenship friendliness, good manners and upright behaviour.

THE PAUL VAN NIEKERK AWARD: Rhys Van Den Handel

This is the most prestigious award at Oakhill and goes to a learner who generally and for a length of time has represented all that Oakhill stands for.
